Re: The Messner Foundation

Dear Mr. Garnett:

Alvarez & Marsal Disputes and Investigations, LLC (“A&M”) was retained by Brownstein Hyatt Farber Schreck, LLP on behalf of Messner Reeves, LLP, The Messner Foundation (the “Foundation”), Jim Smith, and Corky Messner, President The Messner Foundation to review the Colorado Charitable Solicitations Act and Raffle License Complaint Against The Messner Foundation, dated August 10, 2020 (the “Complaint”). Specifically, A&M was asked to review the financial records of the Foundation and reach conclusions on how the proceeds raised by the Foundation via raffle ticket sales were used by the Foundation.

A&M’s review of the Foundation’s financial records included reviewing its Form 990-PF tax filings, income statements, balance sheets, bank statements, LE-21 quarterly reports filed with the Colorado Secretary of State’s Bingo and Raffles Program, and other financial records. A&M’s conclusions are summarized below.

- 1) The Foundation’s Form 990-PF tax filings accurately report the financial operations of the Foundation, as reflected in the Foundation’s bank statements and the other financial records described above.
- 2) Based on our analysis of the timing of the Foundation’s revenues and expenses, the $50,000 grant to Colorado Academy came from Messner Reeves and not from any of the raffle proceeds.
  - a. The check to Colorado Academy was issued in March 2014 which is more than half a year before the first raffle tickets were sold in November 2014, and more than a year before the first raffle was held.
  - b. The Foundation’s only source of funds as of March 2014 was the $100,000 contribution from Messner Reeves in late 2009.

The implication from the statements in the Complaint<sup>1</sup> that the Messner Foundation issued the $50,000 grant to Colorado Academy “instead” of making scholarship contributions is a false implication.

- 3) The Foundation's raffle proceeds were, in fact, used to pay raffle-related expenses and beginning in 2016 (and in every year since) used to provide scholarship grants. The Foundation has not used the raffle proceeds for anything other than raffle expenses and scholarship grants.
- a. Each of the three raffles (2015, 2016 and 2019) were profitable to the Foundation.
  - b. In total, the three raffles generated $429,435 in raffle revenues. After subtracting $280,293 for raffle expenses, including raffle prizes, these three raffles generated profits of $149,142 for the Messner Foundation.
  - c. Through July 2020, the Messner Foundation has paid $83,380 for scholarship grants which is 56% of the profit earned from the three raffles. The remaining 44%, or $65,762, of the raffle profits have not been spent and are available for additional scholarship grants.
  - d. The Foundation has the remaining raffle profits in cash in its bank account.

Respectfully yours,

David A. Hall, CMA, CVA, CFE, MBA
Managing Director
