EXHIBIT 6

My name is Charles Bediako, and I'm asking for a chance to come back to play collegiate basketball. I attended Alabama for two years, and left early to pursue my dream of playing in the NBA to support myself and my family. At the time the resources available to student athletes were not as prominent as they are today which would have influenced my decision to stay in school rather than leave for greater financial pursuits.

After my sophomore year, I decided to stay in the 2023 NBA Draft because I believed I had a good shot to be selected. I ended up going undrafted and then signed a two-way deal that I thought would give me a chance to be converted to a standard NBA contract. This didn't happen as the two-way deal did not last but a month and I sustained a meniscus injury. Since the day I left Alabama, I haven't played in an NBA game, and most of my time has been spent in the G League working to earn an opportunity to play in the NBA.

I have played in the G League, with the Spurs', Nuggets' and Pistons' organizations, trying to keep my dream alive. I'm thankful for those opportunities, but it hasn't worked out the way I hoped. Going through all of this has made me realize how important it is to keep growing, not just as a player but as a person.

Looking back, if the opportunities that are available for college athletes today would have been available in 2023 I would have stayed at Alabama and continued to develop my game and my education without the worry of pursuing a financial opportunity. I know I made a choice that I'd like to fix if I'm given the chance. I also really want to come back and work on my degree, because I know how important that is for my future.

I am grateful for the opportunities that were afforded to me at Alabama and I would appreciate the opportunity to have my college eligibility reinstated. Thank you for reading this and for considering my request. I really appreciate your time and any chance you can give me to continue my collegiate playing eligibility and education.

Warm regards,
